

PLANS FOR MCKENZIE KING'S TOUR COMPLETED

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Plans for the western tour of Hon. McKenzie King have been completed. Mr. King will commence his tour of British Columbia and the prairie provinces by addressing the public meeting at Victoria, B.C., on the evening of Monday, Sept. 27. All the principal points in British Columbia and the prairie provinces will be visited by the liberal leader before his return to Ottawa some seven weeks later.

Mr. King will be accompanied by Ernest Lapointe, M. P., who was recently elected to represent Quebec East, the seat so long held by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier; W. C. Kennedy, M. P. for North Essex, Ont., and Wm. Duff, M. P. representing the constituency of Lunenburg, N.S., in the federal house. Hon. H. S. Beland, formerly postmaster general under Sir Wilfrid Laurier and who was three years a prisoner of war in Germany, will join the party in British Columbia. The other members of the party will be L. Giguere, private secretary to Mr. King, and Andrew Hayden, national organizer and general secretary of the party at Ottawa. In the course of the tour the party will be joined by other members of parliament. The outline of the itinerary so far arranged follows:

Speak at Victoria, Monday, Sept. 27; Vancouver, Wednesday, Sept. 29; Prince Rupert, Saturday, Oct. 2; Edmonton, Wednesday, October 6. Other dates to be announced in a few days.—Morning Albertan.

VOTE IN B. C. ON OCTOBER 20

VICTORIA, Sept. 10.—October 20 has been officially fixed as the date for the provincial referendum on the question of the best method to deal with liquor in British Columbia for the future.

The voters will be called upon to decide whether the present prohibition act shall continue in force or provision made for government control and sale in sealed packages of spirituous and malt liquors.—Morning Albertan.

MAN WANTED.—To drive delivery car. Must be competent. Apply at once to Manager Hudson's Bay Co., Macleod.

NEW CAR COMING FROM FORD FACTORY

It is said that Henry Ford has completed plans for a new model car which would make the rider believe he was in a Cadillac. The designs of the new car are not available except that the motor has been designed to eliminate all vibration and the body of the car will be all metal.

HAWAIIAN MOTORS RUN ON MOLASSES

From the lowly and sticky molasses is being produced "motor-alcohol"—a substitute for gasoline. Discovered by J. P. Foster, chemist of one of the big sugar plantations on the island of Maui, Hawaii, production within the next three months will be sufficient to furnish fuel for all cars on the islands should a gasoline shortage occur. According to the first reports of the new fuel brought to San Francisco, "motor alcohol" gives more power, greater mileage, easier starting, and more freedom from carbon than gasoline. It can be used without an adjustment of the carburetor.

The new fuel is performing in automobile, marine, stationary, truck and tractor engines. In a 36-hour test made with a 75 horsepower tractor the consumption of "motor alcohol" was four gallons an hour, compared with four and a half gallons of gasoline in the same engine on the same work. Examination of the cylinders showed most of the old carbon deposit removed and the remainder so soft it could be removed with the fingers.

Sugar plantations have been letting their molasses run to waste or burning it for potash recovery. Nitrogen and phosphoric acid are also valuable by-products of molasses. Now, however, production of the new fuel is found to be more profitable than obtaining other by-products.

At present there is enough molasses available to produce 9,000,000 gallons of "motor alcohol"—enough to supply all automobiles in Hawaii. Development of this industry will release shipping space formerly used for transporting gasoline from the United States.—Calgary Herald.

NEW RATES MAY PUT CATTLEMEN OUT OF BUSINESS

W. F. Stevens, secretary of the Stock Growers' Protective Association, while discussing the increased freight rates in relation to the cattle industry, said: "To say that this will put considerable number of cattlemen out of business would be putting the case too strongly but added to the constantly increasing expenses incidental to stock raising in Alberta it will make the business less attractive and will prove to be the 'last straw' that will cause some to withdraw from it and will deter others from going into the industry."

He pointed out that on a shipment of cattle from Calgary to Chicago the extra charge will amount to $67.50 per car, which makes a total of $270 on a car and a charge of $3.37½ per head. Shippers from Pincher Creek to Calgary will carry a difference of approximately $17.50.—Lethbridge Herald.

MACLEOD SCHOOL FAIR PROMISES WELL FOR SUCCESS

Macleod Districts First Annual School Fair to be held in the Town Hall, Macleod, on Saturday, next, 18th has every promise of being a great success. Much interest is being evinced by the 18 schools that will participate and Secretary Gardiner has been literally flooded with entries for the exhibition. The exhibition will be open to the public from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. The distribution of prizes will occur at 8.30 p.m. All exhibits of school work shown at Macleod Fair on August 4th and 5th last will be on exhibition in the hall.

This is a commendable enterprise on the part of the Macleod Agricultural Society and its tendency is for friendly competition and rivalry among the scholars of the various schools and the binding together of their interests and uplifting of their ideals. The admission fee is nominal (25c for adults, children free) and it is the duty and privilege of every adult in the community to attend and encourage the scholars and the society in this laudable undertaking.

OIL BURNING PASSENGER STEAMER MAKES FAST TRIP

QUEBEC, Sept. 8.—The maiden trip of the C. P. S. Empress of Britain, as an oil burner, which was successfully completed on her arrival here yesterday, marked the passage through the St. Lawrence route of the first oil burning passenger vessel.

The fact that it cost an amount equal to the original sum expended for her construction to re-condition her as an oil-burner lent additional interest to her initial voyage with the new equipment.

The trip from Liverpool to Quebec required just five days, 22 hours and 20 minutes, an average speed of 18 knots 5/8, and Capt. Griffiths, as well as the officers of the vessel were all unanimous in approving the oil burning system.

A total of 1282 passengers were carried by the Empress, including 297 first class, 284 second class and 701 third class.—Calgary Herald.

ALBERTA AND THE TEACHING PROFESSION

The attendance at the Normal schools throughout the province is not very encouraging; which greatly increases the problems of education in this province. Conditions, however, differ very little in the different provinces, and there is a dearth of instructors in all parts of the country.

The province of Alberta never produced enough teachers for the schools, but the Alberta-trained teachers have heretofore been reinforced by teachers from Britain and the other provinces, attracted to Alberta by higher wages. The number of young men and young women entering the teaching profession in Alberta has not increased, and the supply from outside has been cut off almost entirely. For that reason the outlook for teachers to man the schools through the province is not very encouraging.

The minister of education has done almost everything humanly possible to meet this serious menace of empty schools. He has encouraged teacher's residences, making the life of the teachers much more comfortable. That has helped to stem the tide. He has introduced the pupil loan plan, which has worked remarkably well, bringing into the profession, temporarily at least, hundreds of young men and women, who would have been unable to enter but for this assistance. He has been aggressive in every possible way.

But, nevertheless, normal schools are not as full as they should be, and there is a dearth of teachers in Alberta. As stated before, this is not merely a problem of this province. The same difficulty faces every other province in Canada and every state in the Union. The dearth of teachers in Britain is the reason that we have no British teachers coming in and for the same reason very few teachers are coming from the eastern provinces.

The whole trouble is that we have been neglecting the teaching profes-

LOOKING FOR MAN WHO IS INTIMATE WITH THE BASSOFFS

That Bassoff, Arkoff and Ahloff, the three bandits who held up the C.P.R. train at Sentinel on August 2, composed a third gang of desperate bandits working in and out of Great Falls is becoming more firmly established every day. Information from Chief of Police Marcus Anderson of Great Falls shows that a fourth man was with the trio when they left Great Falls about the end of July.

It is believed the three gangs were working in co-operation, the members being well acquainted with each other. The gang that bent to Canada are not as well known in Great Falls as the other two, against which the police have a long list of murders, robberies and holdups. Many members of these gangs are in jail and one, William Brandon, is at large, after escaping several times from the police. Whether or not Brandon is hiding in Canada is not known. He may be with some of the colonies of foreigners in Alberta, as it is apparent he associated with such men in Great Falls. To one of the two gangs well known to the Great Falls police the shooting of Constable Connolly in that city is placed.

Bassoff's crowd is known as the third gang. The police were well aware of their headquarters in Great Falls. These men were intimate with Brandon and S. J. Scott, who is resting in the county jail at Great Falls. One peculiarity about the three gangs was the fact that each gang a tall man and a short man operated together, making it practically impossible for the police to tell from descriptions which gang was doing the dirty work.—Lethbridge Herald.

GOOD BYE, JAZZ!

"When the jazz mechanics evolved the crude idea of building jazz tunes they rightly decided that the more ugly and noisy their stuff was the more it would sell," says a correspondent.

"And it has sold. More jazz sold in a month than Beethoven. But that doesn't worry Ludwig, nor does it worry the educationalists and the real musicians. They know that jazz is simply a nine-day wonder; the authentic musician musician comes back to old Ludwig in the end—even if he does take a dip into the new water of jazz."

"Any music palpably built upon the principle of unavoidable noise and nothing more, isn't music at all, but sheer disturbance. Hence the declining popularity of jazz. For although the general public may be, yet there is in every man and woman an inherent sense of rhythm, which makes in the end for full musical satisfaction—rather than fool musical delusion."

"So it goes. Through the fantastic vicissitudes of rattle and fox trots and "Blues" and jazz—the spirit of music moves, surely, winning, sincerely and inevitably toward the building of music for the people that shall be truly music, and nothing else. "Jazz has had its day. It has pounded and bawled and prodded our musical senses for many months now. It's high time we had some fresh novelty. And we will."—Family Herald.

Hard to Rattle

The witness for the defense was being cross-examined. In answer to a question put by the counsel, instead of speaking he nodded his head.

Whereupon the court stenographer, who was not looking at the witness, demanded: "Answer that question." The witness replied: "I did answer; I nodded my head."

"Yes," was the retort. "I heard it rattle but could not tell whether it was up and down or side to side."

tion. We have been paying our teachers less than we have been paying unskilled labor. The teaching profession holds out very few temptations for the future. It is laborious, difficult and a trying profession. Compared with other professions not more honorable or useful, it has very small rewards.

For that reason very few young men and women are entering the profession, and those who are entering it are doing so temporarily. The result is that the supply of teachers is far below the demand. The people are largely responsible, and they have been warned but did not listen. The result is that we are nearing educational bankruptcy.

One suggestion for meeting the emergency—but is something more than an emergency—is to lower the standard of the teachers. That would be very poor business, and the minister of education in Alberta, quite properly, refuses to listen to any such advice. The standard should not be lowered—in fact if anything, it should be increased.

A united effort should be made from one end of the country to the other, by way of increased minimum salary, to place the teaching profession on a better plane. If definite, united and widespread action is not taken it is difficult to predict what may happen in the next ten years.

BRITISH EARL IS SENT TO PRISON

LONDON.—"You are one of those unfortunate men who have not been brought up to do anything for a living. You found yourself, therefore, without anything to do and with an inclination to dissipation which you fully indulged. If a man in real want obtains credit or money and breaks the law, it is possible to make some excuse, but you obtained credit simply for self-indulgence. I sentence you to three months imprisonment."

The man at the bar before Justice Darling was not a shabby down-and-out, but the Earl of Clancarty, now bankrupt. The jurist had found him guilty of obtaining credit without disclosing the fact that he was an undischarged bankrupt.—Morning Albertan.

ARE PEOPLE IN PICTURE WORLD REALLY HAPPY?

Frequent reports from the moving picture world tell of domestic troubles and divorces among actors and actresses who make the fat salaries quoted in the press from time to time. It does not appear that professional prominence or excessive earning power has added greatly to the happiness of those who have attained them. In fact, the private lives of most of the movie artists appear to rotate around centres of exceeding hard work, exceeding frivolity, considerable domestic conflict and frequent tragedy.

The movie world is said to be a world to itself, having its own code of morals, both professional and personal, and its own peculiar methods of life. Certain it is that when circumstances force the affairs of these picturesque individuals before the public, the spectacle presented is not inviting. It is said that the Pickford family was quite poor up to the time Mary attained the movie stage. Today the Pickford family seems to be rolling in soft beds of $20 bills, yet the impression increases that perhaps the Pickford family was happier in its old days of poverty than it appears to be in its days of prosperity and divorce.—Calgary Herald.

IS IMPORTANT THAT EVERY INDIVIDUAL SHOULD REGISTER

In view of the vote to be taken on October 25th next to decide yes or no as to the question "Shall the importation or bringing of intoxicating liquors into the province be forbidden?" it is important that every eligible voter should register and having registered should vote. If you do not register you cannot vote. If a representative vote is not cast, no matter what the result, it will not be the real mandate of the people—let every one entitled to do so, register and vote, and thus make the result of the referendum representative of the will of the electors. To ensure the privilege and duty of voting it is absolutely essential that every voter's name should appear on the voters lists now being compiled—Moreash's Store is the registration office for Macleod and registration will be taken there until 9 o'clock in the evening of Saturday, Sept. 18th.

The Lethbridge Herald says: Independently of the referendum vote, it should be remembered that the voting lists at present being compiled may be used in case a general election takes place before the Dominion census is taken, that is in 1921. This may in all likelihood so happen by legislation being passed to that effect at the next Dominion session, should the government decide to go to the country immediately. The process of registration may therefore very well mean the killing of two birds with one stone.

"As a guide to those who register for the purpose of voting on October 25th, it will be in place to point out that the Canada Temperance Act as recently amended, shows exactly what the proposed prohibition of importation means. It will exclude from the Province, except for sacramental medicinal or industrial purposes, all intoxicating liquor other than that which, under the laws of the Province or Territory in which the prohibition is in force, may be lawfully sold therein." It will prohibit not only importation, but the manufacture or sale of liquor intended for importation.

The penalty for the first offence against the Act will be a fine of from $200 to $1,000, or imprisonment for from three to six months. For each subsequent offence the penalty is imprisonment of from six months to one year. And in the case of a person accused, the onus rests on him of proving his innocence.

Willie Answered

A doctor who was a superintendent of the Sunday school in a small village asked one of the boys this question:

"Willie, will you tell me what we must do in order to get to heaven?"

Said Willie, "We must die."

"Very true," replied the doctor, "but tell me what we must do before we die."

"We must get sick," said Willie, "and send for you."

CANADIAN BREWERS GET MARKETS LOST BY U. S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The same wind that brought prohibition to the United States brought prosperity to the brewing business in Canada, for practically all the countries of Central and South America are turning to the Dominion for the beer once purchased here, according to Francis O'Keefe Kahle, head of the largest brewing establishment in Canada. Mr. Kahle, who is stopping at Hotel Claridge, says that since the United States went dry the Canadian brewers' business has increased by leaps and bounds.

"Beer manufactured in the United States was just becoming a staple produce in South American countries when the prohibition amendment was passed," said Mr. Kahle. "It was fast supplementing mescal and other 'hot' drinks among the working classes, and the employers found that their men would cut cane on beer instead of raising cane on the stronger beverages."

"Canadian brewers have fallen into this business naturally, and with such an extensive market now they are greatly extending their efforts. Just now we are pretty hard up to fill all the orders that flow in, but after a few months more we will be well equipped to meet these orders."

"The business of brewing in Canada has increased from 300 to 400 per cent. In a great many cases the entire plants of American brewers, with their new and excellent machinery, were purchased intact for a fraction of their value and immediately installed across the border. American beer grain and hops are being contracted for in large quantities for the Canadian brewers."—Lethbridge Herald.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR TIES UP RAILWAY WORK

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—Difficulty in securing supplies of steel rails and also shortage of labor are assigned as causes for little progress this year in projected construction of branch railways. The Canadian National had planned to take up slightly worn main line rails and use them for branch extensions, replacing them with heavy 85 pound rails, but the latter cannot be secured save with great difficulty and delay, and as a result branch line work, especially in the west, has been retarded.

There is likewise a shortage of railway labor due to the fact that Canadians do not take to that kind of work, while thousands of foreigners who used to do it went home during or after the war and have stayed there. Others have gone to the coast. As the urban labor markets are becoming slack it is hoped that in these quarters the necessary men may soon be secured for railway extensions and maintenance.—Calgary Herald.

IMMIGRANTS WANTED ON THE LAND— NOT IN CITIES

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press)—Canada should give better facilities for the establishment on the farm of people from the Old Country, in the opinion of Viscount Burnham, who told a big audience of Ontario people yesterday, during a visit to the Toronto exhibition, that the special facilities afforded by the Canadian authorities, for the land settlement of ex-servicemen should be extended to a wider circle of immigrants from overseas. If there is not a broader encouragement given to intending farmers in Canada, the bulk of British immigrants will inevitably make for the larger centers of population of Canada rather than for the farming communities, and the new immigration will be dammed up in such cities as Winnipeg, defeating the purpose of the Canadian authorities.

Speaking of the anxiety of Canadians to encourage the investment of British capital in Canada, Lord Burnham reminded his hearers that capital was now at a premium in Great Britain from taxation and other causes and that surplus capital in the Old Country had dwindled, but the coming of better times, he felt sure was in sight and the British capitalists would be glad to invest in any sound business venture in Canada.—Lethbridge Herald.

SOUTH MACLEOD IRRIGATION PROJECT WELL UNDER WAY

On Wednesday last Archie McFadden went to Edmonton to place in the hands of the government the completed petition asking for the granting of a vote for the erection of the South Macleod Irrigation District and for the election of trustees for same.

The petition was accepted by L. C. Charlesworth, Deputy Minister of Public Works, who stated it complied with all government requirements and who assured Mr. McFadden that in all likelihood action would be taken by the government within a few weeks in the granting of the vote on the erection of the district and election of trustees.

Mr. McFadden is sanguine of the prospects of the vote being taken within the next two months.

The holding up of the petition circulated last winter in this connection occurred through its having been prepared under the requirements of the old act and not being presented before the new Irrigation Act had been passed and which invalidated it. It was on account of an unfortunate combination of circumstances and blame in the matter does not seem attachable to any of the promoters of the proposition.

ORIENTAL SERVICE AIDED BY BLUE FUNNEL LINERS

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Times gives the details of an agreement between Holt and Company, of the Blue Funnel Line, and the Canadian government merchant marine and the Canadian National railways for a joint steamship service between Vancouver and the far east, each providing an equal number of vessels. The Times regards the scheme as a remarkable compromise between the government and private interests, and further suggests that the Holts, who have a large business with the United States Pacific ports, may be influenced to develop trade with British Columbia by discriminatory measures in the United States against foreign shipping.—Calgary Herald.

TRADE EXPANSION POSSIBILITIES IN WEST INDIES

A booklet on the "The British West Indies and British Guiana," just issued by the Bank of Montreal, is a most timely publication in view of the new trade agreement between Canada and the West Indies now awaiting ratification of the respective governments. The booklet gives a concise and interesting description of the salient features of the various colonies which are party to the agreement, including the physical characteristics, area, and population and principal exports and imports. It shows that there are most prosperous markets awaiting development by enterprising Canadian merchants and industrial firms.

At the present time, it is stated, the British West Indies, British Guiana and British Honduras have a total population of over 2,000,000, with natural resources that have really only just begun to be developed. For instance, it is officially estimated that there are at least 20,000,000 acres of fertile land in the British West Indies not yet beneficially occupied, whereas the area under cultivation is only one and a half million acres.

The opinion is expressed that under the system of preferences granted by Canada and the United Kingdom, and with the growing world demand for such commodities as the West Indies produce, the development of these colonies will proceed apace. There is every prospect of considerable and progressive increase of the population. If all the fertile land there were brought under cultivation the colonies which are in the new agreement could easily support a population of between 30,000,000 and 50,000,000. Even at the present the interchange of natural products between Canada and the British West Indies is only a tithe of what it will be, and probably will be advocated and the much-improved steamship services provided for.

The book gives Canadians an excellent idea of the directions in which trade may be extended. It is replete with detailed and authoritative information of imports and exports of the various colonies, and gives most useful information as to the best methods to be pursued in getting into touch with the local business houses and building up trade relations.

The fact that the bank of Montreal is now directly represented in the British West Indies, through its alliance with the Colonial Bank, places this institution in an advantageous and authoritative position for assisting firms in their trade relations with the various colonies.

The booklet has a map showing the relative positions of Canada and the colonies which are parties to the agreement. Copies may be obtained free from any branch of the Bank of Montreal.—Calgary Herald.

The engagement is announced of Isabella Mary Davison, only daughter of the late Roderick Davison, of Quebec City, to Guy Meredith Proud of Edmonton, son of the late H. G. Proud, of Ottawa. The marriage will take place during the latter part of this month.

Mrs. Margaret Ryan, a Macleod pioneer, died at the Macleod Hospital on Sunday evening last, aged eighty-three years. Burial took place at the R. C. Cemetery, on Monday, Rev. Father Osborne conducting the rites for the departed dead.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Perry and children, of Lewiston, Montana, have been the guests of Francis Ryan for the past few days. Mr. Perry is a Macleod old timer—conducting the Perry Electric Co. here in 1912. He is now in the live stock commission business in Montana.

L. Carmichael, of Monarch, employed by Curran Grier, has just completed the work on and erection in the union cemetery of a beautiful spire to the memory of Mrs. Curran Grier. The tribute is of native free-stone and consists of a ten-foot spire with base and coping around the lot—it is a lovely and lasting monument to the departed wife of Curran Grier.

Mrs. Nellie McClung, the talented woman platform orator, of Edmonton, will address two meetings in Macleod on Saturday, September 18th in the affirmative interests of the coming referendum. The speaker will address a women's meeting in the Presbyterian Church at 3 p.m. on above date and a public meeting in the Town Hall at 8 o'clock in the evening of the same day.

BIG STRIKE IN BRITAIN NOW SEEMS INEVITABLE

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 12.—The trades union congress concluded its sessions here yesterday without any attempt at intervention in the coal crisis. Most of the labor leaders, including the miners' delegates, left on afternoon trains and the scene of operations again will be transferred to London, where the miners' executive will meet early this week. The triple alliance composed of miners, railway men and transport workers, will also be called together again, it is stated, before the miners' notices expire on September 23. Whether the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress will make a definite move is regarded as problematical.

The restraint exercised by the congress delegates this week and their reluctance to propose mediation are considered due to the feeling that no useful purpose would be served at present by outside interference between the miners and the government.

Food Political Ends

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The week end has brought no relaxation in the tension due to the threatened strike of the coal miners, and though the public show no fear of a strike, no hope is apparent of averting the trouble.

Premier Lloyd George supports firmly the official attitude, and after a consultation with him on Saturday, Sir Robert Horne, the president of the board of trade, issued a statement pointing out that the miners refused to submit their wage demands to a competent court and declaring that the country was menaced by an industrial strike for political ends.

Strike notices were given out on Saturday.

The miners' executive meets on Tuesday, meanwhile, the food controller intimated that in the event of a strike, prompt measures will be taken to restrict food consumption.

To Reduce Sugar Ration

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Announcement is made by the food controller that in the event of the coal miners striking, the weekly sugar ration will be reduced from 12 to six ounces per head.

"THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME"

What! Miss Jack Pickford in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," by John Fox, Jr.? Miss that picturesque role of his wherein he dresses in coon-skin cap and buck-skin clothes, carrying a rifle bigger than himself; that great scene where he jumps plumb on his boy enemies in a regular good, old-fashioned kid-fight; his little, funny fishing trip; his stirring adventures and beautiful love story? Not much! This Goldwyn feature shows Jack at his best and one of the best pictures this theatre has shown in a long time.—Empress Friday and Saturday.

SHOULD BE EASY

Doctor (to patient)—Well, how are you feeling this morning?
Patient—Very much better thank you, doctor. The only thing that troubles me is my breathing.
Doctor—Um—you must see if we can't get something to stop that.

Observant Youth

Little seven-year-old James came home from school the first day with a determined look on his face. He was decided on one point. "Mother," he cried, "I'm going to quit school and be a school teacher."
"Why, James," said his mother, laughing, "how can you? You don't know enough."
"Don't know enough!" exclaimed the would-be teacher. "You don't have to know anything. All you have to do is to ask questions."

Absent Minded

Prof. Dogstody, LL.D., L.S.D., is absent minded. One night he returned home late and rang the bell. Every one was in bed. So he rang again—quite forgetting he had his latchkey. At last his housekeeper's head protruded itself from a second story window.
"The Professor," declared the head, "isn't in."

The professor pondered doubtfully for a moment.

"All right," he answered, quietly, "I'll call again." And, hobbling down the steps, he went forth once more into the cold and cheerless night.

Something in Oils

He was anxious to purchase a present for his wife, and, as he liked pictures and as the walls seemed bare, he soon hit upon a satisfactory form for his gift.

"Where shall I find something really nice in oils for the dining room?" he asked the clerk at a department store.

"On the third floor," began the clerk; then he paused and looked doubtfully at the inquirer. "Did you mean a painting or something in the sardine line?" he asked.

Why You Should Buy Shoes Now!

WE Shoe Manufacturers of Canada—and there are 158 of us in all—feel that there are certain features relating to our industry that you should know.

One of the principal things is this—

There is little likelihood that shoe prices will be very much lower than at present, for some months to come, at least.

IN any event, any reduction that the manufacturer may be able to make to the retailer will be slight; on the other hand, there is a possibility that prices on some styles may be higher.

Your shoe retailer bases his prices to you on what he pays the manufacturer. He, in turn, is dependent on the cost of leather and other things, as well as of labor.

We buy our materials months before our shoes are on your feet, and the price of these shoes is naturally regulated by the cost of the materials of which they are made, and of the handwork expended on them.

Therefore, our advice to you—and we give it in all sincerity—is to BUY NOW any shoes you need for yourself or your family. Don't buy extravagantly or recklessly, but do so carefully and judiciously.

Your retailer will give you this same advice too, if you ask him. He knows, as we do, that if the public demand for footwear suddenly started up abnormally, scarcity of shoes and higher prices would probably result.

This is a situation that should be mutually avoided, and will be if you buy what shoes you need, as you need them.

RAILWAY RATES GIVEN BIG BOOST

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—By virtue of a judgement which will be issued from the offices of the railway commissioners, probably tomorrow, railway companies in Canada are granted an increase of forty per cent. in eastern Canada freight rates and 35 per cent. in western freight rates effective on Monday next, September 13, and to continue in force until December 31.

After December 31 the increase in the freight rates in eastern Canada is reduced from forty-five per cent. and in western Canada from 35 to 30 per cent. This increase is applicable to all freight commodities with the exception of those which are expressly stipulated in the judgement and for which special provision is made.

Simultaneously with the increase in freight rates passenger rates all over the country are advanced 20 per cent., so long as they do not exceed four cents a mile. This increase is effective only to December 31. After that date and for the six month's period from January 1, 1921, to July 1, 1921, a ten per cent. increase is authorized; after July 1, passenger rates return to those in force at the present time.

The judgement will authorize increases of fifty per cent. in sleeping car rates and parlor car rates and an increase of 25 per cent. in the rates on excess baggage.

Consternation in East
TORONTO, Sept. 8.—Announcement of an increase in freight rates of forty per cent. in eastern Canada and thirty-five per cent. in the west, to become effective on Monday next, has caused great consternation among the leaders in the industrial and business world.

Very outspoken last night in condemnation of the railway commissions' judgement was Hugh Blain, president of the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association, who was prominent in combatting the proposed increase during the hearing a few weeks ago at Ottawa.

"It is very much of a surprise to me that the railways should be granted their full request," he said to the World. "The public cannot have confidence in a commission which gives such a judgement. It is a very serious matter, but I was prepared to accept a compromise, but I never expected to see the railways get all they asked. It is a most extraordinary position for the commission to take and will create a great lack of confidence."

"The result is bound to be a very great hardship upon the consumer. The result must be to raise prices again to a very large degree because the consumer will have to pay at least 100 per cent. more than the increase in freight rates will amount to."

When in Ottawa arguing against the rate increase Mr. Blain presented a set of figures to bear on his contention that the public paid more than double any added exaction in freight charges, because the extra impost was added more than once, freight being paid on raw materials and again upon the manufactured product during the complicated course of distribution. "The effect upon business in general is bound to be bad," continued Mr. Blain. "The increase comes at a time when the consumer was beginning to feel relief and now we are to have fresh inflation of prices."—Lethbridge Herald.

TERRIBLE EARTHQUAKE

ROME, Sept. 8.—Several hundred persons lost their lives in the earthquake at Fivizzano, and many more were injured, according to a dispatch to the Tribuna from Massa.

Town Demolished
FIVIZZANO, Sept. 7.—The town of Fivizzano, 34 miles northwest of Lucca, has been completely demolished by an earthquake, according to a Spezia dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph. The dispatch adds that Monte and Solara were badly wrecked.

Great Damage Sustained
ROME, Sept. 8.—Scores of lives are believed to have been lost in the district north of Florence which was severely shaken by an earthquake yesterday morning. As reports from the stricken region come in over faltering telegraph and telephone lines, the extent of the disaster seems to be growing and there is a possibility the damage may be much more serious than was at first believed.

The territory violently disturbed seems to be lozenge-shaped with Florence at the southern end of Modena at the northern. It extends along the Etrurian coast and runs over the Apennines eastward for upwards of 100 miles. In this district there are many populous towns and no tidings have as yet been received from many of them. There is every indication that the shock was a severe one, and reports from cities in the earthquake zone show that buildings crumpled beneath the strain of the convulsion of the earth.

At Fivizzano, a town of 17,000 inhabitants, near Carrara, almost every building was damaged and many completely destroyed. Among the collapsed structures is the post office, in the ruins of which is the entire staff. Soliera, in the province of Massa Marittima, and Monti, nearby, were partly destroyed. Rivesano, Forni and Montignoro are reported in ruins, while in Marina and Carrara, many structures have collapsed. At Viareggio the cathedral of St. Paul was destroyed, and at Castle Farnco De Sotto the ceiling of a church was shattered.

Panic prevails at Lucca as a result of the cataclysm and from Gavina and Limes there comes reports of lives being lost. At Villa Franca, in Lunigiana, an entire family was buried in the ruins of the home, and the village of Vigetta was entirely destroyed.

Serious damage was done in the Frignano district where houses collapsed, and at Frassinoro, where a number of houses fell. Sante Andre and Pievejelago were badly damaged, but the number of victims has not been ascertained.

King Returns
PISA, Italy, Sept. 8.—King Victor Emmanuel with his suite, who came to this city immediately after he received news of the earthquake in this vicinity, went this morning to visit districts in Lucca which were affected by the shock.

DIGGING POTATOES

The following, which appeared in Monday's Lethbridge Herald, is by W. T. McConn, Dominion Horticulturist: The best time to dig potatoes, if they are not affected with blight or rot, is as soon as the tops have died. If the weather is dry, or where the tops remain green until killed by frost, the digging should be delayed until that time, as during September there is often a great development of tubers. Where potatoes are grown on the average farm the digging is usually left as a matter of convenience until after the corn is harvested, where that crop is grown, and when the tubers are covered with soil, the latter may be frozen an inch or so in depth, without the crop being injured. Potatoes should not, however, be left in the ground when there is danger of the ground freezing to a greater depth. When the soil is fairly well drained and not particularly wet, the digging may be delayed for a month or more without injury to the crop if the tubers are healthy; however, where there is no disease the sooner the potatoes are dug after the tops are dead, the better.

Potatoes which have been killed by late blight will usually rot as soon as the conditions are favorable, and for this reason it is better to leave a diseased crop in the ground as long as possible, as the tubers which are diseased mill, most of them, show signs of rot before they have to be taken up on account of frost, and they need not be gathered. If diseased potatoes are dug and stored as soon as the tops are dead, the disease will be almost certain to develop in the pit or cellar, and healthy tubers will rot from contact with the diseased ones. It is not good practice to dig diseased potatoes early and pile them in the field. It is better to delay digging as long as possible and then put the potatoes in a cool, well ventilated cellar.

WHEAT CONTROL.

With the going out of existence of the Wheat Control Board the business of buying and selling Canada's most important agricultural product will again be the business of private firms and individuals. With the passing of the board there will also come to an end the fixing of prices for flour and wheat, and there is considerable speculation as to what the immediate effect of the restoration of the old order of things, with prices based upon market conditions, will be.

The government's decision to do away with the wheat board, which handled the 1919 wheat crop on the basis of a fixed initial price, plus what the market would bring, has been taken in the face of considerable opposition. Curiously enough, much of this opposition has come from wheat growers who were strongly opposed to control last autumn. The explanation of this peculiar situation, doubtless, is the fact that wheat control work out much more successfully and realized for the farmers more for the grain than they thought it would, with the result that this autumn they have in many cases expressed preference for its continuance.

The attitude of the government is that under existing conditions, when the allied governments are not purchasing immense quantities jointly, it is not advisable that control should be made. It has been pointed out, however, that at the last session parliamentary power was taken to reconstitute the wheat board and take control of the handling of the 1920 crop, should it be deemed necessary. It is understood that an assurance has been given the grain growing interests that, should developments warrant the reconstruction of the wheat board, the government would not hesitate to act. It is not anticipated such action will be necessary.

Recent cables from overseas have stated that the Royal Commission on Wheat Supplies for Great Britain which in past years arranged with the Canadian wheat board or its predecessor, the Board of Grain Supervisors, will now buy through British brokers, who in turn will purchase from Canadian brokers.

An interesting feature of the situation in Great Britain is that the bread subsidy paid by the government has been removed, but bread prices will not, it is thought, be increased.

It is also predicted that prices obtained for wheat in the British market this year will be approximately the same as were paid for the 1919 crop.—Family Herald.

HISTORY OF THE BERMUDA ISLANDS

When wealthy Alberta farmers weary of winter trips to California, they seek variety of scenery and climate in Florida or the Bermuda Islands. Now that the high exchange rate discourages them from visiting Los Angeles, more of them will seek a winter playground in such British havens of delight as Jamaica or the Bermudas, both of which may easily be reached from Halifax.

An added incentive to visit the Bermudas this year arises from the fact that the crown colony, set in the warm seas off the sunny south, is celebrating the tercentenary of its parliament. Among all the parliaments of the overseas possessions of King George, that of the Bermudas is the oldest. The first parliament to meet outside of London was the Assembly of Virginia in 1619. In the following year the Bermudas saw the establishment of a similar institution. The history of those small but beautiful islands goes back to the early years of the seventeenth century. Sir Walter Raleigh and other navigators gave them a wide berth because of their treacherous reefs, and the storms that dashed about them. Shakespeare has embodied their bad reputation for storms in the well known phrase in "The Tempest," where he speaking of the "still vexed Bermoothes." But in 1609 Admiral Sir George Somers, "a man of good skill in all passages," was driven upon their reefs in a voyage to Virginia, and was surprised to find them "a most plentiful place." He it was who took possession of them in the name of the King of England. The Virginia Company obtained by royal charter the right to exploit them. Another company of adventurers obtained control of them later, but in 1684, the charter was abolished and they came under the direct administration of the crown and have remained a crown colony ever since.

A parliament, however, was set up in 1620, and has continued to this day. Canada extends her felicitations to the land of lilies and onions, and expresses the wish that the commercial ties between the country and the Elysian islands may become even closer and more profitable in the future than in the past.—Calgary Herald.

RADIUM

Slowly, radium, once hailed as the wonder element and the cure-all of modern medicine, takes its place with the other nostrums and means of modern medicine.

There is always the loud cry of the end of human suffering when a new drug or a new system of medicine makes its appearance. So it was with radium. Here was the new and sure cure for cancer, which kills its quota of one man in eight and one woman in twelve each year.

But—it is a remedy, not a cure. Radium has the quality of emanating rays, and these rays kill flesh. Radium burns and sears and long in healing.

Cancer cells, of course, abnormal cells, and all abnormal cells are less healthy and less vigorous than the normal body tissue. Therefore, reasoned the medicine men, that which attacks normal flesh should attack with even greater power abnormal flesh.

That is the basis of radium treatment for cancer. The cancer is exposed to the rays of radium. The rays strike through the wholesome flesh, but, the theory runs, they do more damage to the cancer.

The cure of cancer by radium application, say the experts, depends largely upon the position, shape and duration of the growth, as well as upon the patient.

Radium may be a cure for cancer, but the best experts won't say yet that it is THE cure.—Morning Alberta.

YE PLEBISCITE ON YE BOOZE

Editor Macleod Times.

Just a word regarding the vote about to be taken on the importation of liquor into this province.

Every person entitled to vote has enough knowledge and experience in this matter to vote intelligently without coaching. The moral aspect if any there be, should be left to the individual conscience.

All reasoning and reasonable people admit that alcohol in itself is not an evil, but that it is a product of nature intended for the benefit of mankind and serves many important and useful purposes apart from drinking.

The intemperate use of alcoholic beverages, that is excessive drinking, is a great evil. Whether drink containing alcohol should be used at all is a question upon which people disagree more in theory than in practice.

Much legislation has been passed from time to time in different countries, sometimes to prohibit, sometimes to curtail and control the sale and drinking of liquor. The results have been generally unsatisfactory. So much is this the fact that if today some man could devise a legislative scheme that would effectively suppress illicit traffic in liquor and regulate the sale thereof so as to abolish excessive drinking he might truly be called a saviour of mankind. Unfortunately we seem to be far from such a legislative scheme in Alberta.

Notwithstanding the energy of a large and efficient provincial police force the government is unable to suppress moonshining and bootlegging. We are face to face with this condition. It is not a theory. Will the prevention of lawful importation improve the present condition? Or will it only result in compelling a man who can now send away and get a package of good liquor lawfully when he wants it, to buy poisonous liquor from a bootlegger when he does not want it. I say "when he does not want it" advisedly because the bootlegger you have not always with you. From the very nature of his calling he must be a peripatetic individual. A fixed place of abode invites taxation. He just naturally dislikes taxation especially when it takes the form of an impost on income and output. #### RE THAT LATIN!

Sept. 14, 1920.
Some of my reasons for not wanting to teach Latin this year are as follows:—

(1) To teach grades nine and ten Latin would require three half-hour periods per week to each grade; in other words the students would have to spend three hours of school time each week on Latin. As it is at present there is far too little time between nine o'clock and four for the numerous subjects which the regulations compel each student to take.

(2) Do those students who will actually attend the University later on need Latin for matriculation? In Manitoba if a student had French he could substitute two sciences for the Latin. British Columbia has some such ruling. And I have reason to believe, but am not yet sure, that the University of Alberta this year for the first time is adopting a similar ruling. But during the past in the provincial university no Latin whatever has been required of students pursuing the following courses:—Engineering in all its branches, Agriculture, Accountancy, Household Economics and Architecture.

(3) What are they doing in other schools? Last session the Stettler school had two teachers doing High School work exclusively. They taught grades nine, ten, eleven; no grade twelve, no Latin, no French even. And their two teachers certainly had their hands full.

Cardston employs two high school teachers. They teach grades nine, ten and eleven, also French, but not Latin. Twenty-seven out of forty-two pupils passed.

Redcliff this year has two high school teachers, no Latin and no French even.

(4) According to a regulation just issued both our grade nine and ten will have to write on the Departmental Examinations next June. "Recommendation of the Principal" is done away with, as far as these grade-es are concerned, in high schools employing two teachers. As no examination in grades nine and ten Latin is provided, that subject cannot possibly help a student to pass.

Those who are determined to study Latin have an opportunity of doing so after school hours.

After careful consideration of these and other reasons I firmly believe that it is in the best interests of my grade nine and ten students that Latin be not taught in the high school this year.

Yours respectfully,
Colin B. Faulkner

NOTE AND COMMENT

British exports to Canada are on the increase. This is satisfactory. But Canadian exports to Britain are decreasing, which is not quite so satisfactory.

Members of the Imperial Press Congress are amazed at the efficiency of Canadian railways and the excellence of the service they give. They speak of it as being "wonderful" and "positively uncanny." That is real praise and well deserved.

A pugilistic gentleman named Dempsey worked at his job about 15 minutes yesterday and carried off somewhere between $50,000 and $75,000 as his share of the quarter hour's exercise. It seems to pay to put the punch into one's work.

Four men lost their lives investigating the bottoms of wells in the north country over the week end. It is always wise to let a light down into any hole in the ground before trusting oneself to the depths. If the light refuses to burn there is small chance for a human being.

Canadian eagle men probably expected too much from the British press representatives with respect to the British embargo against stocker cattle. The British press men no doubt wish us well, but they can not forget the interests of their own constituencies.

For many years the Cave of the Winds beneath the big falls at Niagara has been a mecca for daring tourists. They would go there less frequently now. Yesterday a fall of rock in the cave behind the falls killed three and jeopardized the lives of hundreds. It is a dangerous spot.

Rum running is serious business as well as profitable. Bootleggers from Estevan were chased by American officers the other day and there was some shooting in which an automobile was wrecked and one of the culprits wounded. The authorities across the line apparently mean business in their fight against John Barleycorn.

The attorney-general has promised that there will be a clean-up in the Crow's Nest Pass region. That is good news and will be welcomed by none more than by the Pass people themselves. They do not like the reputation their district is getting through the unlawful conduct of a small minority.

Express companies in Canada want an increase in rates and a talk of a heavy deficit coming at present rates when shipment of liquor from one province to another ceases. Here is another charge against prohibition that will have to be met by the general public. But how did the express companies make their profits before the liquor shipment business began.—Calgary Herald

BULLETIN FROM THE PROHIBITION HEAD-QUARTERS, EDMONTON

(Communicated—Published by request)

The announcement of a registration of all voters in towns (over 100 population) and Cities in Alberta has acted as a bugle call to the temperance forces throughout the Province. They are now awake and active everywhere. Even from points that were formerly the despair of organizers come such communications as this: "We have formed a strong committee here and have our first meeting this week. Our first object will be to see that every citizen who will vote dry will have his or her name registered in good time."

The ladies are specially active. By means of public meetings and personal canvass they are preparing to get every woman who is entitled to vote and is sympathetic to prohibition out for registration.

Mr. H. H. Hull, Provincial Organizer, is now making a tour of Southern Alberta and will complete the organization of that part of the Province. He has with him as team mate, Mr. H. Arthur Barton an ex-actor and entertainer, well known throughout the West. Mr. Barton never fails to grip and arouse his audience with his program of readings and impersonations, and his forcible prohibition address. "He makes one feel," says a correspondent, "that it is a privilege and honor to be on the side of prohibition."

A conference of all organizers in the South was held in Calgary on Friday, September 10th, to plan the rest of the campaign; both Mr. Hull and Mr. Bishop being present. Another one will be held a week later in the north. Two ladies, specially interested in organizing women's work, will be on the job by Sept. 13th, and will do much toward speeding up and perfecting this important branch of the prohibition organization.

We will be able to announce next week a list of outstanding speakers who will be routed throughout the Province during the rest of the campaign.

Campaign Secretary

He is taken to the city of Lexington where he is stranded and makes the acquaintance of Major Buford who takes him in. "Chad" makes a hit with the Major and falls in love with aristocratic Margaret, who reciprocates his affection but snobbery compels "Chad" to go back to the mountains. The Civil War breaks out, "Chad" casts his lot with the North. After thrilling adventures forgiveness and reconciliation with the Major precede "Chad's" marriage with Margaret. Empress Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Lucky Man

At a church conference a speaker began to tirade against the universities and education, expressing thankfulness that he had never been corrupted by contact with a college. After proceeding for a few minutes, the Bishop, who was in the chair, interrupted with the question: "Do I understand that Mr. Dobson is thankful for his ignorance?" "Well, yes," was the answer; "you can put it that way if you like." "Well, all I have to say," said the prelate, in sweet and musical tones—"all I have to say is that he has much to be thankful for."

40 YEARS ON JOB—NEVER LATE

Col. George Taylor Denison, one of the interesting men of Canada, has reached his 41st birthday. He has been in office as police magistrate for the city of Toronto for more than 40 years, and during that time holds the creditable record of never being one second late at the court. At the first stroke of eleven o'clock during all the morning of the 40 years, he entered the door of the court room. At the last stroke he was in his seat on the bench and prepared for action.

That is a very creditable record, and one which business men, particularly in this western country, should emulate. Calgary one time seemed to have a fixed belief that no meeting was worth while if it started on time. The belief grew into a tradition, until a person who went to a meeting on time was sure to waste a quarter or half an hour.

Conditions are better now than they were. People are beginning to appreciate the importance of time. Men and women are meeting their engagements precisely on time. The man who does not keep an appointment punctually, or attend a meeting on time, is not only unbusinesslike, but he is very careless about the welfare of others. It is bad business and it is inconsiderate.

The Reciprocal duty of farmer and merchant is very far reaching. It means the preservation and prosperity of each also building up a market town. Investors and intending settlers, also the wholesale trade, invariably look up the worth, integrity and standing of its merchants. The land held by ranchers increases or decreases according to the prosperity of the market town and its business men. It is the duty of the storekeeper to assist the farmer in times of stress, misfortune or between crops. The crop of last year before was very discouraging and last year it was worse. Practically a total failure. High winds, soil-drifting, hail, worms and hoppers were part of the tribulation. Feed had to be imported for livestock with money that was urgently needed for living necessities. In many cases it was heart-breaking. The merchant was the only refuge in this time of trouble and many nobly responded to this call for assistance. To turn the merchant had to beseech the Banks to loan him money, giving security all he possessed. The wholesaler in turn was asked for more time, many refused saying they were in the same straits as the merchant. You see then that after this help it is up to the farmer to make good. It is an imperative duty. Directly he has something to sell or gets returns from threshing, to run with both feet without delay, and pay and settle his obligations. During this tedious waiting for another crop season the poor storekeeper's nights are restless with troubled dreams. He wakes up unrefreshed, his life is shortened by worry, and wonders if life is worth living. The farmers crop is growing while he sleeps. His dream is 60 bushels to the acre. What live stock is now left over from the hay famine are putting on flesh. The chickens and roosters wake him up crying "We have laid some more eggs." All animal nature cries out once more "Hail Shilling Morn."

BAD EFFECT OF THE NEW FREIGHT RATES

Not only the public but the wholesale firms will be much disappointed over the finding of the Railway Commission with regard to the raising of rates, is the opinion of Mr. Fred Horne, of the wholesaler firm of Campbell, Wilson and Horne, Ltd., in the city. That it must raise the price of commodities, he said, there cannot be a doubt, and the increase is made more exasperating in that the public was looking for a decrease in prices.

Mr. Horne estimates that the increase of 35 per cent on goods containing in carload lots from eastern points will mean about 67 cents per 100 pounds on goods delivered in Lethbridge. In addition to this there will be the 35 per cent. in respect to goods re-shipped to country points from the city.

On first class freight the increase will be $1.21 on a 100 pounds, making the freight nearly $5 or $4.84 as against the old rate of $3.63. Mr. Horne, however, was not inclined to be too pessimistic over the effects the hoist in railway rates will have on prices. He pointed out that the increase as it affects fifth class freight will amount to about 53 cents in the 100 pounds, this will mean, for instance, from one and a quarter cent to a cent and a half on canned tomatoes.

The raise in freight rates in the matter of re-shipping will affect the country stores in a greater measure than those in the city.

RAISING AND ROASTING DUCKS

A chef whose roast duck was the boast of his hotel, was asked as to condition for marketing. He said: "For the family table, where the cooking is from first to last with a medium oven, the duck should not be very fat, else the roast will be greasy. For my cooking I want the ducklings as fat as I can get them. The fat is mainly in the lining of the skin. When first put in I have the oven as hot as I can get it so as to fry out the fat and leave the delicate crust of cells that hold it crisp and dainty. The excess of grease goes into the pan, from which it is easily removed, and not, as in slow cooking, into the flesh and dressing. When done just right outside the heat is lowered and the inside with the juices kept in by the crust is—well, just as my ducks are."

"To get fullest measure of the fat, which is nature's protection of the vitals from chill, the birds must have water for swimming for an hour or two each day. Put ducks bring the better price and fat can be put on with water cheaper than weight can be made with feed. Again, where feathers are part of the returns, water tells in the heavier down, in the plumage generally being tough, and more elastic and less brittle. It also tells in the price."—Family Herald.

BLOODLESS REVOLUTION IN ENGLAND

Revolution in England!

But a bloodless one! If one were writing in the exclamationary style of the movie scenario author the above is the way in which he would start telling about one of the greatest and most noteworthy labor movements not only in England but in the whole world.

For it would tell how the labor on the English farms, hitherto the most oppressed, the most underpaid, underfed, under-clothed, worst housed of all English working men, has suddenly begun to demand and receive his human rights.

The very absence of 400,000 farm workers in the army caused England for the first time to realize how important a cog in the machinery is the man who tills the fields, plants the seeds and reaps the harvest. The result is that he is now not only enjoying higher wages and shorter hours, but is beginning more and more to exert his strength through his own unions and is making a fight for better educational facilities for his children.

When the war broke out the average wage of the farm labor was about $3.80 per week. But with the German submarine menace, it became necessary for England to increase her own food crops. Therefore, a Corn Production act was passed by Parliament. It guaranteed a certain price to the farmers for their wheat and it bestowed the boon on the farm laborers of a minimum wage of $5.00 per week.

This became the law on Aug. 21, 1917, and ever since then the worker has gradually gotten more wages until now he has an average of about $8.50, is demanding a minimum of $10 and has his eye on an ultimate $12.

Moreover, he is using a weapon hitherto unknown in Anglo-Saxon countries in disputes between farmers and their help. He is actually striking in certain parts of England, and there is a threat of bigger strikes all over if his demands are not satisfied!—Morning Alberton.

Montevideo, the capital and chief city of Uruguay, takes more than half of all the automobiles imported into that country.

Somebody is always taking the joy out of life. Along comes a chap with a declaration that school holidays are too long; they should only be three weeks.

WHEN'S A WIFE NOT A WIFE?

When is a wife not a wife? That is the question, and all Greece is thinking it over. Here's the dope: King Alexander married Mrs. Aspasia Manos, a French girl. In Greece there isn't any such thing as a morganatic marriage. So the King's wife isn't his wife, morganatically speaking. Soon the National Assembly is to decide if Greece will recognize her as the Queen of Greece. It's a long bet that it won't, because she is not a daughter of the nation. Now then, if King Alexander's wife isn't his wife, as far as the country is concerned, and isn't his queen, what the whoop is she? And will Greece demand that King Alex. either renounce his throne or his wife?—Morning Alberton.

A NOTE ON PHOSPHORESCENCE

All our readers who dwell, or are visitors, by the sea at this season watch with interest and delight the shifting play of bluish lights in the surface of waves which are shown by jelly-fish and various other animals in salt water. People will tell you it is "phosphorescence" and if they are wise they will also tell you they cannot explain it—for nobody understands fully this beautiful phenomenon.

This property of luminosity, so widely possessed by marine animals, is an unsolved mystery. It is called "phosphorescence" because it resembles the cold light given out by phosphorus when undergoing slow oxidation, as when dampened; but phosphorus has nothing to do with the manifestation here or in such insects as fireflies, for that mineral is not present in the animal body. It is not owing to the presence of luminous bacteria, as in rotten wood or decayed fish. What it is is not really known, but it has been learned, at least, that in marine animals the power of emitting light is always attributable to certain structures of a glandular nature that secrete a slimy, luminous substance. As a rule the light-organ is surrounded by a layer of black pigment that acts as a reflector, and often the light is projected through a transparent lens. This remark refers especially to those deep-sea fishes and squids in which the light-organs are localized in special parts of the body, rather than suffusing the whole frame, as in the common egg-shaped jelly-fishes called ctenophores, which are most frequently seen near shore; and it is believed that in these cases the light may be thrown wherever the creature desires, as a man handles an electric flashlight.

But for what purpose? It is to illuminate the surrounding water so as to perceive, or to attract, prey? Or is it to avoid foes? A learned oceanographer replies that no one certainly knows. "At all events," he concludes, "the answers would probably tend to show that the many different kinds of light-organs serve different purposes." I find in Moore's interesting little book, "The Origin and Nature of Life," the following pertinent note, resulting from his experiments in a large salt-water aquarium:

"It might be supposed at first thought that these phosphorescent organisms are not observed to emit light during the day because of the presence of sunlight, and that if taken into a dark room, they would be found to phosphoresce just as brilliantly as at night. Such, however, is not the case, not a spark can be elicited from them even by vigorous shaking, so long as there is daylight in the outer world. But if one stands by in the dark room as twilight is falling outside, although the organisms have not been exposed to light all day, one observes the little lamps light up and flash out one by one like coruscating diamonds till the whole dish is studded with flashing and disappearing light, a glorious sight in the darkness and stillness.

"At the daylight the series of changes are the reverse of those witnessed at dusk. Half an hour before sunrise the number of flashes

THE WINNIPEG KIDDIES

A show of a double-barrelled guarantee is coming to the Empress Theatre on Wednesday, Sept. 22. This show is The Original Winnipeg Kiddies—an attraction which, according to a noted New York critic, far surpasses the original Pollards and the famous Bostonians.

The Winnipeg Kiddies carries the endorsement of R. J. Lydiatt, vice-president of the Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., who in a recent letter, said: "There is no show that is more popular or has more prestige in the big cities than The Winnipeg Kiddies." The show is also endorsed by Mr. F. Cutler, manager of the Empress theatre here, who exerted strenuous efforts to secure this attraction to open the winter season. The Winnipeg

Kiddies are also being used by the Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., to open the winter season over the circuit in the west.

These famous kiddies have broken a score of records in big American cities. It is one of the most expensive shows on the road, carrying a complete school for these accomplished child stars, as well as guardians, wardrobe women, etc.

There will be a matinee at 4.15 to permit the children of this district to take in the show at the nominal price of 25c. Adults at the matinee will be admitted at $1.00. The night prices are $1.00 and $1.50. The prices are $1.00 and $1.50 top so Macleod is getting the attraction at the same figure as the larger centres of population. Generally a two-dollar top is charged in the smaller towns.

The Lesser Evil

He was one of those fellows who thought he could do anything, an opinion shared by some of his friends.

"I can't decide whether to go in for painting or poetry," he remarked one evening to the young lady he bored with his vain chatter.

"I'd go in for painting if I were you," replied the girl.

"Then you have seen some of my paintings?"

"Oh, no," she told him cruelly. "But I've heard of some of your poetry!"

Some More Water

It was a proud day for the Jenkins and the Smiths. The first grandchild was being christened, and a host of admiring uncles and aunts had turned up to witness the great event.

"And the name is to be—" asked the clergyman suavely, as he stood beside the font with his armful of silk, lace, ribbon and red face.

"Augustus Philip Frederick Charles Snooks Chesterfield," replied the god-mother, all in one long breath.

"Dear me!" exclaimed the clergyman. Then he turned to the sexton. "Some more water, Mr. Perkins, if you please."

An Irish sentry was on guard near the powder magazine when the orderly officer approached his post smoking a cigar. Paddy, remembering his orders, halted the officer and told him to put out his cigar.

Complimenting Paddy on his smartness, he threw it away and went on his way.

When out of sight Paddy picked up the cigar and started to smoke himself. The officer, returning, found to his surprise that Paddy was smoking, and asked him for an explanation.

"Sure, sir," exclaimed Paddy, "I'm smoking this in evidence against you till the sergeant of the guard comes round."

A call from Stirling and West Huntingdon to Rev. R. Simpson, of Brooklyn and Columbus, to the Presbytery at Whitby, was sustained by the Presbytery at Kingston.

Miss B. Michel, Kitchener, daughter of the City Engineer, was severely bruised when struck by a Grand River railway car, and dragged a considerable distance under the fender.

A CHARACTERISTIC WHICH ALSO APPLIES TO CANADA

One of the most peculiar things about the public at a whole is in its belief in the superiority of things which come from abroad. An English singer is often disregarded if he calls himself "John Smith," but if he changes his name to "PAUL TRIPOFSKY" the English public will listen to him.

A Dutchman manufactures goods but his fellow-countrymen are not enthusiastic about them if he marks them "Made in Holland." So he ships them to Britain, Germany, or Switzerland; they come back with foreign labels—and the Dutchmen buy.

In Brazil a certain plant makes excellent locks, but they cannot be sold as "Made in Brazil," so the manufacturer makes them "imported" and they sell.

Only a few years ago few Canadian shoe manufacturers would mark their products "Made in Canada." Fortunately, the situation is rapidly changing. The improvement in Canadian shoes has become so marked in recent years that they now rank in quality and style with the best shoes made in any country.

VICTORIA, Sept. 15.—British Columbia is free of forest fires and no more outbreaks are expected, according to a report of the forest branch of the department of lands. There were no less than 981 distinct fires this year and to fight and extinguish them it has cost the province $182,408. —Calgary Herald.

BIOGRAPHICAL OF THE WINNIPEG KIDDIES

The funniest and fastest vaudeville show in the world is booked for the Empress theatre on Wednesday, September 22nd.

Canadians who doubt that their own country can produce the best stage talent on the globe are due for a big surprise when they see The Original Winnipeg Kiddies who have smashed scores of records in both Canada and the United States—and whose history is more astounding and unique than any other show in existence today.

The performance given by these Kiddies is a riot of color and comedy, of melody and mirth. You forget all about them being kids after the first five minutes, and you settle down to enjoy a show that has broken records made by big New York successes.

These kiddies started out when they were about seven years old. Their aim was to raise funds for patriotic purposes. That was in 1915. They played in villages and small towns, undergoing many hardships without a whimper, and working for years for nothing. In this work, in which they raised thousands upon thousands of dollars for war widows, war orphans and like needs, they gave freely—one of them losing an eye, and two others narrowly escaping death by drowning.

They grew in numbers and talent until they began touring the big cities. When the United States entered the war, the kiddies were requested to assist American recruiting missions, and made a couple of successful tours of the American Northwest, also playing the cantonments by request of Washington, and creating a veritable furor. They were feted and dined and entertained by governors of states and many other high dignitaries and always the theatres were packed to the doors. In one big city several businessmen paid $100 a seat, knowing that the funds were going to recruiting purposes. But the complete history of this remarkable troupe would require many columns of space. They do not dwell on past records, but on the merits of their show. They are now on a commercial basis.

LOS ANGELES IS NOW ON GAS RATIONS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—Gasoline rationing is now in effect here and in the surrounding territory. The regulations have been imposed by the oil companies. Some have placed a limit of five gallons on passenger cars as the maximum sale at any one time. Others have set the limit at one-half the capacity of the car tank. Motorists are finding that the only way to best the restriction is to alter the gasoline gauge so that it does not register correctly. Supply station operators claim that the Standard Oil Co. has limited them to 20 per cent. of former supplies. Tank drivers have told they have instructions to cut all requests to 10 per cent. This has resulted in some dealers placing their request high enough so that after the 10 per cent. is deducted they still get enough gasoline to meet requirements. —Calgary Herald.

JAPAN MAY BE SUED BY CHINA

WASHINGTON, District of Columbia—Official confirmation of the Peking report that V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese minister to the United States, will exchange posts with Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to Great Britain, is lacking at the Chinese Legation, but he report has been current for months that this change would take place and it is credited in diplomatic quarters. Dr. Koo, according to unofficial advice from Peking, has not desired

American delegation for the stand taken by the Chinese delegates, of whom Dr. Koo was one. The Chinese delegation refused to carry out instructions from the Peking Foreign Office to sign the Treaty of Peace with Germany.

Dr. Koo has been appointed to represent China at the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations called for November, and is ambitious to carry the Shanghai question before the League.

In this connection it is understood that the reservations filed with the since the closing of the Peace Conference in Paris to return to the United States, these reports indicating that he was disappointed in not obtaining there the support of the committee of jurists which met recently at the Hague to formulate a project for the organization and procedure of an international court of justice had in view the possibility of a suit against Japan by China. It is believed to be the intention of some Chinese statesmen to institute litigation in the international court.—Christian Science Monitor.
